DAILY BULLETIN - TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 2018-Day 8

*Attention: MENTORS WANTED for Middle School Students!

Have you ever been affected by learning or attention problems in school? If so, you know what it's like to persevere in the face of challenges. If you would like to share your experience with a middle school student who is struggling with the same things, we want you! Andover High is starting a local chapter of Eye-to-Eye, a national mentoring program that seeks to pair high schoolers with learning and attention issues with middle schoolers who have the same issues. It is designed to help middle schoolers discover their true abilities and become more confident in both school and in life. So if you've had similar learning challenges, and you might want to help, please find Lucus Rush, Meghan Arpin, or Ms. Tarricone for more information. If you can't connect with us, pls just stop by Office 380 and leave a message. You could make a huge difference in the life of a future AHS student!
